

Trinity Wittman
Member, Board of Directors
Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation

Trinity Wittman

Trinity Wittman held senior leadership positions with the Canadian Orthopaedic Association for many years, having served alongside Doug Thomson and most recently, Cynthia Vezina, their current CEO. Trinity's long and successful tenure with the COA fostered a profound understanding of Canada's orthopaedic community in all aspects. Her many years of helping to realize the annual conference of the COA is indicative of her exceptional administrative abilities. She obtained her Masters in Nursing during a recent leave. Trinity embodies the "ready on day one" ability to contribute to the goals of the Foundation's Board of Directors.
